The Summer Guide Books.

The Reading Railroad has issued its annual guide book, whereby any one who intends making a trip this summer, whether it be a long or a short one, a cheap or an expensive one, can see at a glance where to go, how to go and the cost that will be entailed. A map is included in the book. The Reading system connects with all other systems, and the tourist can go almost anywhere in the United States over it and its connecting lines. The book can be carried in the pocket and is decided a useful one to have at this season.

The summer excursion book issued by the Lehigh Valley and New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroads can be had from Mr. N. Van Horn, General Southwestern Passenger Agent, 895 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. It is a handy book to have as it gives the summer rates over the railroads we have mentioned and their connections.
